

Groups & Workshops Schedule

The Counseling Center offers a variety of different groups and workshops that are meant to improve the emotional well-being of our students.

These services are free, but you must be registered to join.

GROUPS

Queer Connection

This support group is for undergraduate and graduate students who identify as members of the LGBTQIA community, including those who are questioning, to connect and find support as they navigate their time as students. Topics will be participant-driven but often include coming out, family issues, romantic and sexual relationships, and navigating the current political climate.

Mondays from 2:00 - 3:30 p.m.

Understanding Self and Others (USO) - LATE START

This is a general therapy process group that encourages personal growth through interpersonal communication. Members benefit through exploring their relationships and communication styles, and through providing and receiving feedback. Starts after Spring Break.

Tuesdays from 10:00 - 11:30 a.m.
